FOREWORD

This book could not have been produced without the help and co-operation of the student body, faculty, the kind people who loaned us valuable material, and a wonderful staff. My deepest thanks go to all of these people.

The aim of the Cougar Staff of 1957 was to produce a yearbook commemorating the Golden Anniversary of our great state, Oklahoma; one that would show the progress of the public school system of Ada since statehood, and one that would tell the story of the school year 1957. We sincerely hope that we have succeeded in these aims and that you will enjoy every page.

DEDICATION

When Oklahoma as a state was yet a dream, countless men and women suffered in poverty and died that we might today enjoy free public schools. They died that we might live and learn—and learn to love those noble qualities that originate in the heavens of God. They died building a fountain of youth where we might drink freely of the Pierian Spring of Knowledge. As starlight of Heaven lights the pathways of the world, so does the starlight of their deeds illumine our hearts and minds today. To the pioneer educators, our forefathers, and our parents who gave and who give the supreme gift—their all and all—to make the public schools of Oklahoma possible, we, the COUGAR staff of 1957, humbly dedicate this Golden Anniversary COUGAR.

THE COUGAR STAFF OF 1957

EARLY HISTORY OF THE ADA SCHOOLS

In 1890, the Daggs brothers, J. M. and J. B., brought their families to what is now Ada, and built their homes in the southwest part of the city near the cement plant. Coming with them was Jeff Reed, who is credited with being the founder of Ada, who liked the place so well that he brought his family too. He built a store in the northwest part of what was to be Ada, and 1893, the post office was established.

The first school was opened 1892 in a 20' by 30' log structure located in the northeast corner of the old cemetery at Second and Hickory. John Crowley was the first teacher. In 1896, the school was replaced by a two story building.

When the town moved to the new townsite in 1900, the only schools in "new town" were one room subscription affairs. Miss Villa Wilson opened the first school on a lot at Fifteenth and Broadway. Another in the 100 block on East Fifteenth was taught by Professor Wilson. Miss Grace Smith opened one on East Sixteenth, Mrs. Dicey Sinclair taught a private school at Twelfth and Townsend and A. B. Curtis taught high school grades at the old building.

In 1901, a two-story frame structure located on the site of the present high school building was opened as a private boarding school run by J. J. Scarborough. This was purchased by the city in 1902 and Scarborough became the first superintendent and principal. In 1907 the first class, seven, was graduated. East Central State College (then a normal school) was awarded Ada, and until the present Science Hall was completed, used this building too.

The growth of the city has been reflected in the growth of the schools. In 1903, Irving school was built, and as needed Willard, (1908), Glenwood (1915), Hayes and Washington (1919), and Napier (1939), were added. Too, these buildings have been, and will be rebuilt as the need arose and funds were available.

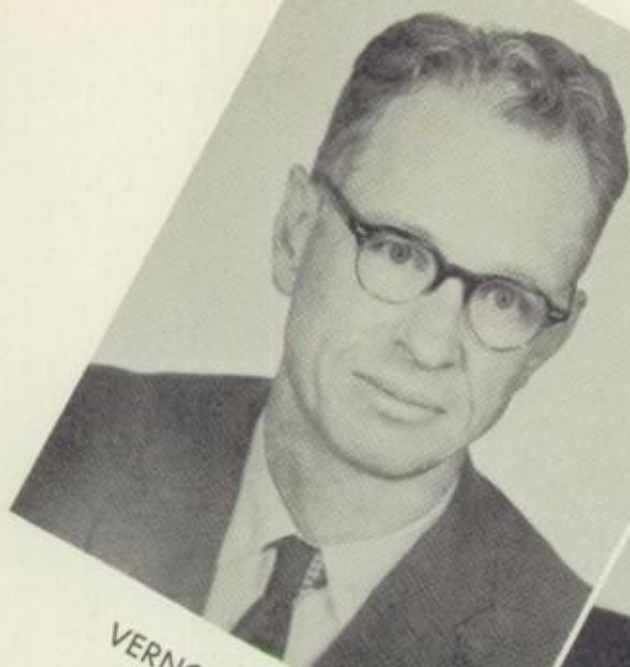

It was in 1928 that "Oklahoma's most modern up-to-date" high school building, Ada High School, was occupied by grades nine to twelve. Peak enrollment came in 1937-38 when 866 students were in attendance. When the junior high school building was occupied in 1939, the ninth grade was moved into it. A band building was added in 1954 and a cafeteria in 1956.

Thus in a brief span, the schools of Ada have grown from a one-room log cabin with one teacher to a $2,500,000 plant with a faculty of 128 to keep pace with all of Oklahoma's growth.

To Ada High School Students . . . Then and Now:

With the book we commemorate the fiftieth year of the state of Oklahoma and tell in part the story of the growth of education in Ada.

Among the thousands who have passed through the halls of the Ada Schools, the lives of many attest to the value of the education they received here. For twenty-two of the fifty years it has been my privilege to be connected with the educational system of Ada.

One of the richer opportunities in my life has been the deep and lasting pleasure of association with the students of the Ada Schools. I hope that in some measure I have been able to add to the enrichment of your lives as you have . . . and continue to do . . . for me.

HISTORY OF ADA HIGH SCHOOL

In 1907 the first high school in the Ada Public School System was organized and housed in a rather small building known as the North Side School. All grades, from the first to the twelfth, attended this school. Then in 1912, the high school division was moved into its newly constructed building, and the name Ada High School was assumed.

Many changes have been made in the fifty years from 1907 to 1957. The enrollment has increased from 60 students to the present 463; the graduating class has grown from 7 in number to 142 for this year. In the beginning, four grades (9, 10, 11, 12) were included, now only the last three are included. The ninth grade was moved to Junior High School in 1939. There have been seven different superintendents and eleven different principals as administrators to the school. Four outstanding organizations have been organized and sponsored; namely, the National Honor Society, the International Understanding Organization, the Contnahomas, the newly organized Student Council.

Through these fifty years, Ada High School has been outstanding in scholastic, musical, and athletic events. For a number of years the school has been Interscholastic Meet Champions; for three years, State Football Champions; for one year, State Basketball Champions; Conference Champions for numerous years. In fact, there are 235 trophies in the trophy cases that have been won in different scholastic, musical and athletic events.

The 1957 graduating class will be the fiftieth consecutive graduating class. These graduates, along with the ones who have gone before them, will always remember the symbols which represent the ideals of Ada High School — the Cougar, whose stout and courageous heart represents "their school"; the colors, Maroon and White, which stand for clear and strong ideals; the Flag, designed by Harry Nelson of the class of 1937, which flutters in a breeze of victory.

Yes, Ada High School is proud of all of its accomplishments, but is proudest of the student-citizens who have gone from its portals. To have been a part in the molding of some of the finest citizens of the community, the state, and the nation, is, indeed, Ada High School's greatest success.

HISTORY OF ADA JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

The board of education of the City of Ada approved plans for the beginning of a junior high school in the fall of 1928. Thus, the new department met in September, 1928, in the old Ada High School building which originally stood at the end of Stockton Avenue on Eighteenth Street, approximately occupying the same ground that the new music building now covers. The original plans called for the seventh and eighth grades to be housed in this building and thus relieve the overcrowded elementary buildings. The enrollment that first year was 340. The original faculty consisted of Edna Mae Gregg (now Mrs. Lester King), Likie Wauson (now Mrs. Renfro Herndon), Mrs. W. P. Lee (now deceased), Donnie Hughes (now Mrs. Finis Morrison), Daisy Britt, Mary Orr Nelson, Pearl Perry, Herman Hamilton, Leonard Callis, and Renfro Herndon. The first principal was Mr. H. M. Zimmerman, who served in that capacity for five years. Mr. Zimmerman had been principal the previous year at Willard Elementary School. He was replaced by the present principal Mr. A. R. Wallace in 1933. Mr. Wallace had also been principal at Willard.

The school was moved into the new and present building in the fall of 1939. This building is composed of twenty-three classrooms. Included in the structure is a general science laboratory, little theatre, industrial arts department with a well equipped shop, a home economics laboratory complete with sewing room, kitchen, and living room. The gymnasium is well equipped with a seating capacity of approximately 1200. The infirmary is equipped with two beds and necessary steel cabinets for first aid supplies.

The library is housed on the second floor of the building. There are 4104 volumes of all kinds for use of the students. The reading room, in connection with the library, is used as study hall.

The auditorium in this building has a seating capacity of 1027 and is often used by the High School and civic organizations because of its size. The building has been added to only one time when a repair shop was built adjacent to the middle wing. There have been rearrangements of interior in the Industrial Arts rooms and Home Economics department. A large room in the basement has been improvised for use as a Gym Annex. Also, here is found the new electric kiln for use by the ceramic classes.

In the fall of 1939, the first year to use the new building, was also the peak year for enrollment. There were some 720 students enrolled that year. This was also the year for the ninth grade to be incorporated with the seventh and eighth.

The enrollment for the year 1956-57 is 552. The teaching staff is composed of 22 full time instructors with supplementary teacher from Ada High School in instrumental and vocal music. To round out the staff is a full time registrar, and the principal, Mr. A. R. Wallace.

HAYES HISTORY

Hayes School was opened in January, 1920 with E. E. Emerson, principal.

The following clipping was taken from the files of the Ada Evening News, published in 1920.

"Hayes ward school opens, 350 enroll, women of vicinity serve lunches to teachers and children: faculty—E. E. Emerson, principal; Miss Beulah Smootz, Miss Patton, Mrs. Edwards, Miss Eunice Bills, Mrs. Luther Harrison, Mrs. F. E. Gray, Miss Ina Gray, and Miss Grant."

Also taken from the files of the Ada Evening News, published April 8, 1920, was this article.

"The mothers of Hayes School are asked to meet at the school tomorrow afternoon to organize a Mothers' Club."

Mrs. John Scales was elected first president of the Hayes Parent-Teachers' Association (then Mothers' Club).

Mrs. Ross Warmack has been elected to serve as president next year.

Mrs. Louis George, early day Hayes P.T.A. president, has the unique distinction of being the only patron to have had a child in the school since the doors opened in January, 1920 until now. IRVING

HISTORY OF IRVING

Irving School was built soon after Statehood. Located on Fifth Street between Johnston and Oak Avenues, the building was a two-story red brick and quite modern for that time with steam heat and modern rest rooms. The lower floor had five classrooms and the upper, five. Two adjoining rooms had folding doors and could be thrown together for auditorium use. When the Methodist Church burned, it was used many months for their church.

Irving has always had a large attendance. During the time the grades one through eight were taught the attendance was 500 to 550.

This school has always excelled in athletics, especially when we had eight grades. The girls and boys basketball and football teams played many high school teams such as Roff, Davis, Francis and other, winning many trophies.

Under the direction of the late Mrs. Hidges and Mrs. C. O. Barton, a Mothers' Club was organized and came later to be known as Ada's first P.T.A.

During the depression, 1932, with the help of the Kiwanis Club, the parents and teachers fed underprivileged children two meals a day and helped clothe the needy. Many women served days making and fitting garments.

The P.T.A. has always been a very active group with its work and donations. It is instrumental in our having one of the best elementary school libraries in the state. It purchased the first movie projector for grade schools in Ada and also the pianos. It sponsors the Camp Fire Girls and the Boy Scouts.

During the scrap drive to help our government in World War II, under the direction of the President, Mrs. Lee Higginbotham and Mr. Higginbotham, Irving School won the second prize in the state. Bonds purchased with the prize money have matured and the newest spotlight and electric water fountain were bought with the money.

Many people in all walks of life started their education at Irving. One of these is an outstanding educator, Dr. C. Dan Procter, president of Oklahoma College for Women.

Today, we have a faculty of fourteen, a well-equipped, and modern building with gymnasium combination, kitchen, infirmary and a beautiful teachers' conference room.

Several former Irving students have come back to teach in Irving. Among them are: Ida Lee (Higginbotham) Dickey, Jessie Belle (Ellis) De Moss, Ida (Clark) Meaders, now in California, Vera Hodges, California, Valera Keefe, California, Leo Massey, Viola (West) Elliott, Veala (Cox) Roland and Bonnie (Mitchell) Allen.

Children of many early day families got their elementary and junior high school work in this school. Three of these are still leading citizens in the community: the H. C. Hodges family of ten, the Lee Higginbotham family of ten, and the J. Henry Collins family.

Irving would like to pay a lasting tribute to J. Henry Collins, for through his ability as a leader during his many years as a member of the Board of Education and later, many good things came our way. Outstanding was the great help he gave us in getting this building in which we now operate.

Some of the early day teachers were Mrs. C. O. Barton, Miss Alice Long, Mrs. McKay Peay, Mrs. Birdie Sims Gwin, Miss Catherine Edmiston, A. Floyd, A. F. Watson, Arthur Vernon, J. O. Vernon, Mamie Mims, Robert S. Kerr and Oscar Kimbrough.

We are very happy that two of Irving's young men are members of the present Board of Education, Roy Young and Wayne Pitt. Another, Joe Hodges, is now city mayor. Our present faculty consists of Bonnie M. Allen, Principal, Annie Lee Stall, Jimmy R. Salyer, Virginia Evans, Annie Bolding, Viola Elliott, Dorothy Benson, Loretta Wise, Retha Magruder, Stella Reynolds, Esther Calihan, Blanche Bartlett and Doris Pegg.

HISTORY OF GLENWOOD

Glenwood School, now located between Bluff Avenue and Glenwood Park on Tenth Street, was called Park School. On September 9, 1914, the contract for the first building to bear the name of Glenwood was awarded to S. L. Van Guron. It was a two room frame building, built at a cost of $1200. The building, still in use, now houses the Board of Education on South Stockton. October 5, the building was ready for use and Mrs. Lida Herriott was elected principal. Mrs. Mary McCoy, who had been teaching in the high school, transferred to the school as primary teacher. Two years later, William E. Branch became principal, and was succeeded by Mrs. McCoy the next fall. Mrs. McCoy continued as principal until 1925.

In September 1917, a new two story brick building with a full sized basement was occupied. There were eight classrooms, and later a room in the basement was fitted up for a classroom and an auditorium made also in the basement. This building was located on Main Street south of the present building. The faculty that year included Mrs. McCoy, principal, Buenos Phillips, Mrs. Will Gray, Katherine Brooks, Leona Chauncey, Pollye Stanfield, Lena West and Callie Mae Swaffer.

Other principals at Glenwood have been Charles F. Spencer, 1926-1928, C. W. White, 1929-1934, Howard P. Rice, 1935-1945, and Mrs. Nicey Vickers since 1946.

In 1953 the present one story light brick building, the newest and most modern in the Ada City School system, was occupied. It contains nine classrooms, an infirmary, office, conference room, and an all-purpose room which doubles as an auditorium and a gymnasium. The school enrollment stays between 250 and 300 and there are eight members of the faculty and the principal. A balanced curriculum including art, music and physical education is provided. The school has an active P.T.A. and sponsors Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls, Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts.

HISTORY OF WILLARD

It was the East Side School when built in 1908 until the end of the school year 1912-1913, when the name was changed to Willard on petition of the Patron's Club. The present Willard School building is located at 830 East Ninth Street in the Northeast corner of the block. When the first building was built on this site it faced the tenth street side, and was located in the southeast corner of the block. It was a small frame building.

In the beginning they had the first eight grades. In 1928 the seventh and eighth grades were included in the Junior High and only the first to the sixth was left in Willard.

The water supply for the first school came from a well located half way between the southeast and the northeast corners of the block.

The old Willard building was built in 1908-1909. It was the second building erected on this site. The new Willard Grade School building was built in 1949-1950 and was occupied during the first weeks of November, 1950. On November 21, 1950 we held open house. This first unit contained nine classrooms, infirmary, teachers' lounge and principal's office.

In October 1952 construction was begun on the second unit which added three more classrooms making a total of 12 classrooms. Also a music room and an all purpose room. This was open in the school year of 1953-1954.

At first the East Side School had four teachers. Later when the Willard School was built there were eight teachers. Then when the seventh and eighth were sent to Junior High there were only six teachers. After the present building was finished the enrollment reached an average of 300. We now have 12 teachers.

HISTORY OF NAPIER

The name "Napier" originated in the early years of this century during the administration of J. B. McCutcheon, who gave the name in honor of J. C. Napier, a noted lawyer in the State of Tennessee, and who served as Recorder of Deed in Washington, D.C.

The first high school graduates were: Leslie Williams, George Roe and Joe Roe, in 1940.

For 17 years Napier continued as an accredited high school offering 23 units of credit. The death of S. S. Bradley, in 1946, who directed the growth of the school from one of four teachers to ten able teachers, brought about the selection of C. R. Buford as administrator. Buford served ably until his demise in October 1954, when Robert Johnson was elected Principal.

The 12 graduates of 1956 comprised the largest graduating class in the school's history. With this class, a chapter in the history of Napier School closed. The opening of school in September 1956 saw the high school students absorbed by Ada High and Byng High School.

At present Napier is a unit of the Ada School System with an enrollment of 135 and a faculty of six, all of whom have completed at least five years of professional study.
